LUNCHEON-FASHION SHOW
Spring fever is in the air... with it comes the ardor to desire to toss away everything connected with winter. If you have such an urge, you should have been one of those who attended the Ladies Day Luncheon and Fashion Show at the Forest Heights Country Club on Tuesday, February 18th, sponsored by H. Minkovitz & Sons of Statesboro. Mrs. Inman Foy St. was Chairman of the Ladies Day Luncheon. The show was a success. The models were Mrs. E. W. Barnes, Mrs. Alvin Rocker, Mrs. Lewis Hook, Mrs. Willis Cobb of Pine Top, N. C., Mrs. Raymond Post of Brooklet, and Mrs. Frank Simmons, Sr. who won the lovely basket of flowers used by the models.

Mrs. A. B. McDougald was winner of the bridge prize for high score over all. Mrs. Shields Kean was winner of the Golf prize. Mrs. Klose Ware Hummick, who is Chairman of the Ladies Bridge Clubs, had an outstanding job. Tables for bridge were set up on the terrace overlooking the golf course, where many of the ladies were enjoying a game. The mantle in the club room was banked with native moss. Camellias, always linked with romance and legend, have a place in everyone's life, so beautiful arrangements of these flowers were placed in the club room. At one end of the room was a very large Valentine heart festooned with tissue garlands. The lace, through which the attractive models made their appearance, gleaming emerald necklaces, casual, cocktail frocks, shoes, bags, and evening wear, they carried flowers matching their costumes, which were placed in a large basket on the fireplace.

The attractive models were, Mrs. George Powell of Atlanta, Mrs. Ed Olliff, Mrs. Polly Terry, Mrs. Charlie Robbins Jr., Mrs. G. C. Coleman, Mrs. DeVane Watson, Mrs. E. W. Barnes and Mrs. Joe Robert Tillman.
